Resource Management Capability

Specialists in Providing Client Resource Management Services

The recruitment and management of personnel is a highly dynamic and challenging task in today's market place. Through personal client liaison, "Rapallo" looks to provide tailored human resource solutions to support client operations.

With the support of a company that has proven itself in the delivery of exceptional engineering outcomes, Rapallo is able to extend their services to the client in the form of Resource Management Services.

Resource Management Services covers all aspects of placing personnel in engineering, drafting and specialist blue collar positions within the mining and mineral processing industry ensuring personnel support meets your operational needs. Whether your requirements are in the commencement of a new project or the continuation of assignments through peak operational cycles, Rapallo is able to provide resource solutions to your company.

As no two Projects are ever the same, every Project Execution is a new Challenge. This challenge requires dedication and determination to source the correct individual or team for the engineering task.

"Rapallo has a team of Human Resource professionals providing a wide range of experience across recruitment, contracting and temporary labour solutions for blue and white collar positions", explains Peter George, Rapallo Managing Director. "We have a track record of providing professionals, trades and administration teams that make up large construction project teams for remote location work and our team is skilled in dealing with issues such as 457 visa's, fly-in, fly-out, shift rosters, health and safety management and mine site compliance, staff well-being and dispute resolution".
